Return to the Forbidden Planet

There may be an issue with obtaining the license for putting on the show on the specific dates we currently have selected. We may be wanting to switch the winter show with 3D but we are still trying to see how a show can even be put on. There are a lot of factors; may need to have a parent assigned to each show, how will social distancing be maintained, would we be allowed inside, etc. In addition, there are still a lot of unknowns in determining how the show can come to fruition, but we are not giving up. There is though hopeful news about putting on a spring show so there is something to celebrate and look forward to!

Upcoming Winter Events

DDC Film Festival – the student officers decided to delay the film festival in the hopes of having a live audience. This will also allow for more time for additional students to submit their entries. In the meantime, the officers are making some trailers for the festival.

One board member noted there was an Instagram post about the officer meeting last night that raised questions posed by a parent about why the officers were all meeting together. There were students from various households all gathering inside and this parent was concerned. The students were however all masked and they were using sanitizer, but it was still an indoor gathering of multiple households. Issue was noted for future consideration.

Improv Show for December is cancelled although they are getting 10-15 students attending the weekly virtual sessions.

Thespian Festival Follow Up – Several students attended the entire show from Friday night through Sunday. Joey got an excellent in his monologue, Jackson, Kesley, Liam and Toni all scored superiors. There was scholarship money given to our students which is incredible. There are even scholarships given that don't necessarily require students to study theater in college. Message being more students should consider participating in the future.

Drama Club students may meet up for the lighting of downtown this Saturday night.

Maryanne has a fundraising idea selling gift cards for businesses downtown, could send them to teachers, keep some for yourself. She will find out more details and report back.
