

Dear Dexter Drama Club,

My name is Katherine Rossow, but most people call me Kate. I will be a sophomore at Dexter High School during the 2022/23 school year. I came to Dexter at the beginning of this year and have participated in everything I could. I was Grimsby in The Little Mermaid after a last minute cast change during tech week. In that same show, I also played Windward and was a part of the Eel ensemble. Then I auditioned for Romeo and Juliet and portrayed Abram from the house of Capulet on stage. Finally during Footloose I was part of the teenage ensemble and a member of hair crew. Throughout the year I have also attended many improv meetings and thoroughly enjoyed myself. However, because of sickness, I have yet to be in an improv show. I have also enjoyed going to bonding events all throughout the past year. I would be an effective officer because I am very passionate about theater. I love to lead groups of people and help everyone to have the best experience they can. I am very interested in communications specifically because I love organization, following tasks, solving problems, and informing people. After talking to Owen and Weston about the position I realized all those things are good qualities and passions to have as a communications officer. This position fits my personality and work ethic well. For instance, I love calendars. I especially love the Dexter Drama Club's (it has indeed become my "new best friend" as Palmer would say). When looking at schools that I wanted to attend this year the drama department was a big part of my decision. The DDC website helped me to know I wanted to come here. The interactivensess, welcoming environment, and professionalism displayed while looking at past shows, upcoming events, and photos were all very impressive to me back in the fall and still are now. As one of your communications officers, I would strive to keep that legacy to its full potential. This brings me to my next point about collaborating with another officer in the same position. I am well aware that communications is a two person position and I absolutely love that about it. I believe strongly in working with those around you to create excellence. On our own, we can only do so much. When working as a team with my "partner in crime" I promise to be patient, helpful, and a good listener. I am an extreme extrovert and working through all the good and the bad as an officer with another person who gets it, sounds amazing. Finally, I believe I should address the name of this position: communications. At its center I believe a good relationship with anyone boils down to good communication. And I know that that knowledge will help me communicate with the whole drama club whether it be through instagram, the website, or just in real life conversations. I am also aware that I would be a young officer seeing as though officer positions are normally filled by upperclassmen. However, I will not let this stop me. By the time school next fall rolls around, I will most likely have my drivers license and be able to drive myself to and from meetings, rehearsals, and all other activities. My passion for theater is strong and my want to learn and support everyone as one of your student leaders next year is just as great. I hope you will truly consider me for one of the communication officer positions and I hope you all have a great week!

Sincerely Your Fellow Classmate and Friend,
Kate Rossow
