

Welcome back to another one of Kesley Walter's letters from the comfort of her bed. The 2020/2021 school year will be my last before the "scary real world", but I was sucked into the Drama family in 7th grade, and I plan to be there my senior year as well. While acting is my main passion- as seen by the eleven shows I've been on stage for- I love all areas of theater. I've been involved in crews such as hair, costumes, props, lights, lvs, and even directing, but I would love to continue to expand my knowledge. I hope you all remember me as this last year's Thespian Liaison, trying to convince anyone and everyone to join. It's been a privilege to give back to the club in such a way, and I hope to continue to do so this next school year.

The role and duties of the Vice President are much like that of the President, but also being the "catch all". The VP needs to be able to take action, even when they're not directly asked to. Like many of these other officer positions, communication skills and an organized mind are integral to success. If something gets missed or dropped, it's the job of the Vice President to step up when the others can't. They need to be able to go with the flow, but hold their ground. They need to be supportive of their fellow officers, helping to ensure everything has been finished. I have the ability to roll with what I've been handed and making the best of it. I've also honed my intuition on when to stand my ground and compromise. My organization and communications skills are wonderful, and they would help immensely with a position like this one.

Something that was discussed among the officers this last year and especially over the quarantine, was to turn the private Facebook page into something more for us as a club. Announcements and photos and reminders get posted on there often, but we can also use it as a place to share our excitements or news. We're bonded as a family in the theater, so why not continue it in our space online?

Maybe it's this quarantine making me miss everyone a little harder, but this club has brought me so many friendships and memories, and I really hope to be able to give my love and gratitude back this next school year.

Your Vice Presidential candidate,
Kesley Walter
